

PRIVACY POLICY

PRIVACY POLICY

This website is provided solely for information purposes and is not warranted or guaranteed in any way. By using this website, you are agreeing to the following terms and conditions. Please note that the terms and conditions are subject to change at any time; we encourage you to check back frequently for changes, updates and alterations.

Your Privacy Is Important to Us

The information you provide to us – including your name, email address, phone number and such information will not be shared with any third party. We use the information you provide only to help us know how to serve you better.

User Restrictions

By using, accessing and/or downloading the information contained in this website, you acknowledge you will not store, reproduce or otherwise make use of information in any manner that is in violation of any federal, state or local laws or regulations, including any copyright, secrecy, defamation, decency or export laws.

You are authorized to view, download and print any information on the website, solely for your own personal and noncommercial use, subject to all copyright, trademark and other proprietary notices. Any other use of materials on this website, including: (1) reproduction, except as authorized herein; (2) modifications; (3) distributions; (4) republication; (5) transmission; (6) re-transmission; (7) or public showing, without the prior written permission of On-Site Power, Inc., is strictly prohibited.

What information about you do we compile?

Through our Website and any affiliated websites and emails, all information that you give us whether placing an order, emailing us, joining in a contest, membership and/or promotion or otherwise, is collected by us. We collect the following information: your name, address, telephone number, email address, birth date, billing information (credit card number, expiration date and billing address), products purchased, all appropriate promotion codes and information.

Information collected from you and our use of it.

All information collected from you is used by us to take orders, send emails to you and provide the most efficient and fast internet experience. It allows us to offer you special deals, discounts and promotions. We also make information available (but not credit card numbers or expiration dates, unless consented by you) to third parties including but not limited to, those who trade or rent information for direct marketing purposes. However, we do not make email addresses available to third parties (except to our Affiliates, subcontractors or agents acting on our behalf in compliance with this Privacy Policy) or any Successors to our business unless you have given your consent. If you do not want us to share your information follow the directions set forth below. In the event we merge, consolidate, sell, or transfer all or substantially all of the assets of our Company by, with, or into another company (a "Successor"), one of the assets which would generally be transferred is the information we collect from our customers and users. However, the use of this information by any Successor would still be governed by the terms of this Privacy Policy, as amended from time to time, including any amendment after such transaction. You will continue to have the right to opt-out of sharing your information with third parties.

Information will be disclosed to comply with any law, regulation, governmental or law enforcement request, or judicial process. It will also be disclosed if the disclosure is needed or necessary for the proper operation of our website, including but not limited to the conduct of promotions and contests, etc. Disclosure may also be required to protect our rights, or the rights of our Affiliates, users, customers, etc.

Any user ID and password used in connection with our website is our property and is to be used by you for your use of our website. Each individual using our website is responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of their password. Since you are responsible for your password, any activities with the use of your password are your responsibility, whether or not authorized by you. We request that you immediately notify us of any unauthorized use of your password or any other information. On-Site Power, Inc is operated in the United States. If you are located in the European Union or elsewhere outside the United States, please be aware that any information you provide to us will be transferred to the United States. By using the Website or providing us with your information, you hereby consent to this transfer. In addition, if you provide data to us about other individuals (such as your message recipients), you agree that you have obtained consent from each such individual to the submission and processing of such information under the terms of this Privacy Policy, including without limitation the transfer of such data to the United States. Although we will collect and use your information only as stated in this Privacy Policy, laws generally applicable to the protection of personal data in the United States may not be as stringent as those in some users' home jurisdictions.
